

Chris L. Powers

Training Consultant

Chris L. Powers is a Training Consultant with the Capstone Group at ERC, where he specializes in a full range of customized course offerings, customized training and development, and facilitation services. Chris' training specialties include Performance Management, Management Development, Supervision, Coaching and Communication Skills. Chris possesses a strong background in engineering, business theory, business development, and resource management.

Before starting his business career, Chris served for 23 years in the United States Navy. In the Navy Chris served as a Training Facilitator for the Naval Nuclear Power School. In this position he was selected as "Instructor of the Year" for outstanding facilitation and innovative teaching methods. He was also selected as "Master Training Specialist" by the Chief of Naval Education and Training, and awarded the Navy Commendation Medal for a 100% success rate in the teaching curriculum.

Chris's professional experience includes positions as Quality Black Belt for General Electric Consumer Finance, and most recently as National Sales Manager for Sunrise Equipment Company, an industry leader in the utility and forestry equipment field. At Sunrise Equipment Chris was responsible for market analysis and development, customer relationship building, and sales process improvements.

Chris received a Bachelor of Science in Applied Science and Technology (concentration in Nuclear Engineering Technology) from Thomas A. Edison State College. He also holds a Masters of Arts in Business Administration from Webster University.